PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.—As a result of terrific rains last night and early today throughout West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio, 36 are dead and others missing.

Added to the list of fatalities late Monday are 10 foreigners at Colliers, W. Va., bringing the list there up to 19; three at Burgettstown, Pa., bringing the list there to four, and one at Wexelawn, Pa., near the city. Others are reported missing.

From meager reports, it is believed the monetary damage will approximate $1,500,000.

Telephone facilities in all directions from this city were practically put out of commission.

After 24 hours of excessive hot weather, the storm broke last evening. In addition to an extraordinary rainfall, the electrical features were most spectacular. The steady rain caused every stream to leave its banks. Within a short time the water had washed away railroad tracks and sent tons of earth from surrounding hills, making it thoroughfares in the flood zone im-

NAMES OF ENGLISH INNS

From the Westminster Gazette.

Many explanations have been given of various signboards for inns. The Goat and Compass is supposed to be a corruption of a motto, set over inns during the Puritan period. "Good encompasses us." Bag of Nails or "Bacchanals." Why Not and Dew Drop Inn are described as invitations to the wayfarer. Bird in Hand and Last House, or Final, suggestions that he should not waste his opportunities to imbibe.

The Bull and Mouth is said to be a corruption of Boulogne Mouth, captured by Henry VIII. Bull and Gate. It is suggested, may possibly be a similar vulgarism for Routledge Gate. Great battles fought and fortresses taken are commemorated by Gibraltar, Waterloo, Battle of the Nile, and Trafalgar. Admirals range from Blake to Napier. Generals from Marlborough to Wolseley. Wellington, Nelson and Knappe being the most common. It is surprising how many of the Nelson inns are buildings three or four centuries old. "Showing that the innkeeper was prepared to sacrifice the sign under which he had hitherto done business and trusted to make a new reputation under the aegis of the popular hero."

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means healthy bowel action, a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

Debs Hammers the Three Parties in Oregon Talk

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 2.—Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for the presidency, addressed 7,000 persons here today. Mr. Debs devoted considerable time to a discussion of the Republican, Democratic and Progressive parties, which, he asserted, were all alike in that they represented as many divisions of the capitalist class. "Regardless of which of these parties succeeds," said Mr. Debs, "the condition of the workingman will remain the same."

Mr. Debs was especially severe in his attack on the Progressive party and Colonel Roosevelt, declaring the latter to be the friend of the Harvester and Coal trusts and other large interests. He reviewed many of the acts of Roosevelt while governor of New York and president, declaring them to have been in the interests of the trusts and against laboring classes. "Still," he declared, "he poses as the only friend of the workingman. If you give him your vote next November you will prove a traitor to the working class."

WIFE'S HEALTH RESTORED

Husband Declared Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Would Restore Her Health, And It Did.

Ashland, Ky.—"Four years ago I seemed to have everything the matter with me. I had female and kidney trouble and was so bad off I could hardly rest day or night. I doctored with all the best doctors in town and took many kinds of medicine but nothing did any good until I tried your wonderful remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband said it would restore my health and it has."

DENVER GRAND JURY WILL PRESENT 150 INDICTMENTS TODAY

Will Make Minute Investigation of Utility Corporation's Franchises

DENVER, Sept. 2.—The grand jury, which is investigating conditions in Denver, will present 150 indictments tomorrow morning to Judge Shattuck for his signature. Among them are many against owners of property on Market street.

It is reported that many of the owners of the property have left the state. Their offenses is a misdemeanor, and they are not liable to extradition. Other indictments are said to be against city officials, both of the city and the last administration, for allowing disorderly houses to be on Market street.

Still other indictments have been drawn against persons accused of being implicated in public utility franchise deals, it is reported. Men of high legal standing are alleged to be involved.

In connection with indicting these "higher ups," Judge Shattuck today said:

To investigate franchises.

"I have instructed the grand jury to give the franchises of the utility corporations a most minute investigation, and that if it be found they are operating under stolen franchises, they should be indicted. I have also instructed the jury that it should indict persons for any offense that comes under the knowledge of the jurors."

The jury today went carefully into the franchise question. Matthew Murray, secretary of the utility commission, was summoned. He was ordered to produce the books used in the franchise election of 1908. And these were examined.

The alleged fraud in Denver was investigated, also. Tomorrow prominent merchants will be summoned to testify.

REFUSE TO DIVULGE TIME SET FOR WECHTER FUNERAL

CANON CITY, Colo., Sept. 2.—A black, silver-mounted casket lies in the state prison morgue. It contains the body of Louis Wechter, who was hanged Saturday night at 9:03 o'clock for the murder of W. Clifford Burrows in the White House cafe, Denver, February 11, 1911.

A few miles distant there is a six-foot hole yawning for the reception of the eternal holding—the body of Wechter.

But prison officers, under orders of Warden Thomas J. Tynan, who is busily engaged in chasing votes for the governorship, have made no effort to place the body in its last resting place.

There is almost as much secrecy being maintained about the burial of the man who gave his life on the gallows as there was over the hanging itself. Rumor prevails everywhere and a curfew of "none of your business" is the only reply received by all inquirers.

It was rumored here that the funeral with its cortege of a half-dozen convicts and the prison minister, would be held this evening.

The Rev. Father Christendom Lockschmidt, pastor of St. Michael's Catholic church, who said mass at the prison yesterday morning for the convict, was asked if he had been requested to perform the last rites over Wechter. He replied that he had not been consulted, but believed he would be called when the funeral took place.

EXPLORERS RESCUED

ONE MAN KILLED AND SEVEN INJURED BY LIGHTNING

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2.—One man was killed and seven were injured by lightning during a severe electric storm in Kansas City, Kan., late this afternoon.

Kansas National Election Case Is Under Advisement

DENVER, Sept. 2.—Judge W. H. Sanborn of the United States court of appeals here, sitting as United States district judge, late today, took under advisement the case in which an attempt is being made to annul Charles Seligson, secretary of the state of Kansas, from certifying to the county clerk of Kansas the names of the national electors of Kansas who have expressed determination to vote for Roosevelt.

C. L. Long, former United States senator, Fred Stanley, national Republican committeeman of Kansas, and D. R. Hite represented the plaintiffs, while the defense was represented by John Dawson, attorney general of Kansas, and L. W. Keplinger.

Both sides declared a determination to appeal regardless of Judge Sanborn's decision.

Eight of the Ten Cry Fraud.

The contention of eight of the 10 Kansas electors is that President Taft and Vice President Sherman were nominated for reelection by fraud.

The case originally was brought before Judge Smith McPherson of the Sixth federal district, who issued an order temporarily restraining the secretary of state from certifying to the names of these electors, and setting the case for hearing in this district.

The plaintiffs contended the regular Republican party of Kansas was that party recognized as such at the Chicago national convention, and the names of the electors, who would not support the candidates named at that convention had no right on the regular Republican ticket.

"The Republican party in Kansas is different from the national Republican party," declared L. W. Keplinger, "and the national party has no legal right or authority to displace to the state party, nor can the federal courts dictate as to how electors may be named, or who shall be named to the electoral college from Kansas."

Cuban Citizen Is After 2,000 Pesos to Free His Wife

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 2.—Alonso Fernandez y Arguelles, a Cuban citizen, arrived here today seeking 2,000 pesos in order to free his wife who is held captive by the rebels in his home at Colonia Diaz, southwest of the border at this point. Armed with a Cuban citizenship paper signed by Charles E. Magowan, provisional governor of Cuba under the American protectorate, Arguelles has called on Gen. F. Z. Steever at Fort Bliss, Tex., and as well appealed to Gen. Joaquin Tellez, commander of Mexican federal forces about Juarez.

Rebels Demand Money.

Three days ago 20 rebels visited the ranch which Arguelles manages for a Mexico City banking house. They demanded 2,000 pesos, or $1,000, which the Cuban, who is of Spanish birth, could not produce. He was given until Wednesday of this week to secure the money, and so came to El Paso after a hard ride across a bad Spanish woman, was held hostage.

Arguelles cannot secure the money, and plans to return tomorrow morning to give himself up, but his wife is sacrificed. He says the rebels are of the command of Vaz Salazar, a federal leader under Gen. Pascual Orozco, federal infantry located at Guzman, only a few miles from Colonia Diaz. A Mormon settlement, have not ventured from the railway.

Americans Are Helping Federals Defend Town

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 2.—Ten of 25 Americans at Nacozari, the supervisor of which has been demanded by the rebels are aiding the little garrison in defending the town, according to a report tonight to El Paso from Agua Prieta. A train heading 200 soldiers is on the way to Agua Prieta to relieve the beleaguered garrison.

General Salazar, with 400 men, is reported to be making in the district about Ojinaga, despite opposition of General Sanjines and his 1,000 men. Salazar is said to control the passes at Carretero and San Luis in the mountains separating Sonora and Chihuahua.

Santa Cruz, Sonora, according to a report to El Paso from Douglas, was sacked yesterday and the local authorities fled to Lockhill, Ariz.

Rebels Hold Up Couple Cowboys, Get 73 Horses

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 2.—Reports of fighting at Nacozari have been received here, but cannot be confirmed as the town is cut off from communication from this city. Important mining interests are located there.

Rebels under Campa are reported tonight to be within 15 miles of the border at Naco. They held up two cowboys who were bringing cattle and horses to this side of the line and took 73 horses from them. One of the cowboys reached Naco but the other is missing.

Jose Hernandez, prefect of Oputon, Sonora, who was captured by the rebels last week, escaped from his captors and arrived in Douglas today.

Fall Says U. S. Capital Is Backing Revolution

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 2.—United States Senator Fall, who is investigating whether American money helped recent Mexican revolutions, said today he believed the Mexican revolution was backed by certain American interests.

Chests of Silver

There is sentiment in the chest of silver for a wedding gift, but a very healthy sentiment. The basis of housekeeping ambition, it means romance and it means comfort.

The best silver, the best patterns, both simple and elaborate, and the best taste go into our equipment of Chests of Silver.

The Johnson Jewelry Co.

He claimed to know the "day and place the money was put up." He said that "while President Taft did not know" their purpose, 20,000 American troops were gathered near the Mexican border to put Diaz out of Mexico.

This information was communicated to President Diaz and caused him to leave Mexico, Fall said.

Mr. Fall left here today for New Mexico.

OROZCO-NEAR BORDER

MARFA, Tex., Sept. 2.—Gen. Pascual Orozco, at the head of a band of rebels, is reported approaching the town of Ojinaga, Mexico, across the border from Presidio, Tex., tonight. Cuernavaca, 30 miles south of the border, has been taken by the rebels this afternoon, according to a dispatch from Presidio.

The federal force at Ojinaga is small. Five hundred refugees have crossed to the American side.

NATIVE ADVERTISING IN CHINA

From the New York Sun

Tradesmen in China have quite as high an appreciation of the value of advertising as any other people in the world. In China the biscuits bear the imprint of the baker, and ducks brought in the celestial markets frequently show on their backs a big red stamp bearing the name of the seller.

Chinese shops have large signboards which show an odd mixture of the poetic and the commercial traits of the people. Here are a few examples:

"Shop of Heaven-Sent Luck," "Ten Shop of Celestial Principles," "The Nine Felicities Prolonged," "Mutton Chopped-Morning, Twilight," "The ten Virtues All Complete," "Flowers Rise to the Milky Way."

A charcoal shop in Canton calls itself the "Fountain of Beauty," and a place for the sale of coal indulges in the title of "Heavenly Embrace."

An oil and wine establishment is the "Noblest of Chief Beauty," and "The Harvest Ten Shop of L. L. implies that some pen shops are not honest."

ROOSEVELT'S USE OF HIS NAME SURPRISES ROIRNF OF OREGON

Doesn't See How His Effort to Make Settlement Has Baring on Situation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—United States Senator Jonathan Bourne of Oregon replied today to Colonel Roosevelt's statement yesterday that he and former Congressman Sibley of Pennsylvania were the only legislators who ever called at the White house during his administration in regard to the Standard Oil company.

"I must confess surprise at Colonel Roosevelt's dragging my name into the controversy he is now having with Standard Oil representatives and others," said Senator Bourne. "I fail to see how my effort to bring about a settlement between the government and the Standard Oil company in 1908 has any bearing upon the present political situation."

The senator, explaining that in 1908 he endeavored to settle difficulties between the government and the Standard Oil company, declared he did so "believing such result would prevent the continuance of a panic started in 1907, and that the government could secure much better terms by a settlement than through the court."

Tried to Make Settlement.

Senator Bourne further declared he tried to make a settlement with the Standard Oil company, and secure their cooperation in getting a federal incorporation law that would provide a harbor of refuge for honest business with the government, the harbor master, and the penitentiary for dishonest business men.

"President Roosevelt expressed grave doubt," Senator Bourne continued, "about any settlement favorable to the government being made with the Standard Oil company. Entirely on my own volition, and without Colonel Roosevelt's knowledge, I went to New York and sought an interview with Mr. Archbold. I explained to him the advantages of a federal incorporation law."

"Mr. Archbold expressed himself as willing to compromise with the government and favored a stringent federal incorporation law."

Following this, the senator said, several conferences were held with the representative of the department of justice. "In my opinion," he continued, "the government would have been much better off had one been made rather than the final decision of the supreme court. I wish to state that I had no personal interest in the matter other than a desire to minimize the panic and secure the support of big business interests for a virile federal incorporation law."

"I have never had any interest in any of the Standard Oil companies."

A STATE FAMILY BIBLE

From the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Kentucky is one of the southern states which has recently adopted a modern law for the registration of vital statistics. Put into force a little over a year ago, it has been on trial. As usual, it encountered opposition. Some people were unable to see why births and deaths should be recorded; others did not like to go to the trouble to make out an orderly record of these occurrences. Because physicians and medical organizations led the way in securing this needed legislation, it was, of course, regarded as something for the benefit of physicians rather than for the public good. Shakespeare asked—and so have many philosophers since his time—"What's in a name?" and the wisest of these inquirers have recognized the importance of naming a thing properly. If it is to stand well in the public eye. Evidently this fact is recognized in Kentucky. The leading editorial in the May 1 issue of the Kentucky Medical Journal, under the heading, "Name the Babies," discusses some of the difficulties encountered in putting the new law into effect. In this connection, the editor philosophically refers to the state bureau of vital statistics as "Kentucky's Big Family Bible." A happier name could not well be devised. When the people of Kentucky understand that the object of birth registration is to record the name and date of arrival of each little citizen of Kentucky, so that its legal identity may be established, and that the state is simply exercising the same care that leads a father to inscribe each birth in the family Bible, public support of the measure will be increased and assured.

APPALLING CONDITIONS EXIST IN SOME PARTS OF PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

That people within the domain of the United States are undergoing terrible suffering because of lack of food and medicine and because of the presence of "Christians" in their country, is the statement made by Misses Elizabeth H. and Sarah S. Metcalf, stopping at the Arcadia hotel. The Misses Metcalf have spent five years in the Philippines, most of the time among the natives on Mindanao island, a practically unexplored and uncivilized region near the "stopping-off" place of the islands. They are now looking for a medical woman to accompany them back to the island to assist them in their ethnological and philanthropic work among the natives, who they declare are in need of immediate assistance in the way of hygienic education as well as of more material food and medical attention.

In 1904 the two women left their home in Worcester, Mass., for the world's fair at St. Louis to study the going music of the Philippines from an ethnological standpoint. Becoming deeply interested in the subject, they decided to follow it up with more personal study. In August, 1905, their opportunity came, when the elder found that she must go to a climate such as may be found among the islands. She immediately left with her sister, and until October, 1910, they remained in the wild country. At first they simply studied the going music, which they declare, while much unappreciated, is merely divine, but later they became interested in the natives themselves, and left the settlement at which they were stopping to go on into the interior, where they came in personal contact with the members of the tribe.

Conditions Appalling

The conditions which they found there were appalling, they assert. Although far superior in intellect to most of the tribes in that locality, and originally moral, they are living in a hell of disease and a moral inferno, the latter caused by the whites, who went to the islands.

The two New Englanders say that the Hagobos are usually responsive to any aid, but is so proud that he will ask for nothing save medicine. In former days they were head hunters, and the tunkolo, or head-hunter's handkerchief, was the highest ambition of every boy. Now, however, things have changed. They are so responsive to education that the Misses Metcalf have actually slept in the same house with them, without fear or indeed, cause for fear. "Of course," explains the elder of the two, "there are exceptions to this. I remember one boy that came down there. I think that he came from the Boverly—anyway, he was fresh enough. When he left, six months later, he was Heaven bound. But the natives were not really to blame," this with a native smile. "He—he was so awfully fresh."

The two ladies brought back with them some five tons of native work, mostly hempen and bead embroidery, of which they have a quantity here. It is almost priceless, and the workmanship and texture of the cloth is superb.

Collisions flood, compelling postponement of the morning game with Chicago at Forbes field.

Damages to railroads is very heavy. The Washington branch of the Pennsylvania was so badly washed that all the trains were annihilated and in spite of the men rushed from Pittsburgh to make repairs, it is said that several days will elapse before communication will be open with Washington.

The Pittsburgh & Columbia division of the Pennsylvania also suffered severely. 11 miles of track between Burgettstown and Cumberland Junction having been heavily damaged. Through trains are being detoured to Pittsburgh over the Ohio River division of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh.

The Baltimore & Ohio tracks were flooded in Washington county but repairs are being made rapidly.

Saves Wife, Loses Children.

At Avella, Washington county, Henry Crow's house was undermined by an ordinary little stream. Mrs. Crow was badly injured and Crow carried her out, and before he could return for the three children they were swept away.

After spending his force south and west of Pittsburgh, the storm swung north to Butler county, where great damage was done, but so far as known no lives were lost.

Out drunks were blown down, small streams flooded and scores of persons spent the night in railroad cars, held prisoners between washouts.

INTEREST IN THE NEVADA STATE PRIMARY CENTERS SELECTION 2 CANDIDATES

RENO, Nov. 2.—Interest in tomorrow's primaries throughout Nevada centers in the selection of a Republican candidate for congressman and a Democratic candidate for justice of the supreme court. Except for county and legislative offices there are no other contests. E. E. Roberts, incumbent, is opposed by August Brösch for the Republican nomination for congressman. A. A. Hoer is opposed by P. A. McCarrahan for the Democratic nomination for justice of the supreme court. Senator W. A. Mossey, incumbent, is not opposed for the Republican nomination for United States senator. Kay Pittman is not opposed for the Democratic nomination.

SEATTLE, Wash. Sept. 2.—The Charleston gate of the Puget Sound navy yard, which was closed because the city council of Charleston issued an additional saloon license in violation of an agreement with the navy department at Washington, has remained closed. The navy department, however, has ordered the gate to be closed against the new saloon.

Mrs. J. N. Hill, Homer, Ga., has used Mrs. J. N. I never felt so free from coughs and colds and prevents cough. I have five children and it is the only thing they take for colds, and always with good results. We would not be without it in our family. Polley's Honey and Tar Compound contains no opiates or harmful drugs. The Robinson Drug Co., Seattle, Wash., has it for sale."

CALIFORNIA POLITICIANS BUSY BEFORE PRIMARIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Taft supporters concentrated their efforts in northern California today in the closing hours of the campaign which will end tomorrow in a statewide primary election.

Not only will the primary nominate congressional and legislative tickets, but state central committees will be selected and the legislative nominees will have the naming of the rival candidates for presidential electors.

Interest in the election centers in the struggle for possession of the Republican party designation on the November ballot. Should a majority of the Roosevelt legislative candidates win Republican nominations, they will nominate Roosevelt electors (a run at Republicans, and the Taft electors will have to go on the ballot by petition on the other hand, should the Taft faction triumph, Roosevelt electors would have to go on the ballot by petition as Progressives.

The factional fight has led to complicated situations in many of the congressional districts.

ANOTHER COHAN & HARRIS SUCCESS OPENS SEASON AT

from both titles is that it is the best comedy in an American author on the American stage.
"Officer 666" deals with a young millionaire globe trotter returning home to find his bachelor quarters occupied by a burglar who, not satisfied with having appropriated the millionaire's name and getting himself engaged to a pretty society girl, up the strength of it is rapidly disposing of the collection of paintings gathered forming when succeeded in leading to the theatrical millionaire from the non-musical play, "Officer 666." This is the first time in the history of the Grand Opera House that a play has been so successful. The play is a comedy of the most perfect kind, and it is a play that is a masterpiece of the art of the theater. The play is a masterpiece of the art of the theater. ## HOW BLOOD IS MADE.

The liquids and the digested foods in the alimentary canal pass through the wall of the canal into the blood. This process is called absorption and takes place chiefly from the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food through the body, and each cell takes from the blood the food it needs. A pure glyceric extract made from bloodroot, prairie, alone, queen's root and golden seal and sold by druggists for the past forty years under the name of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, gives uniformly excellent results as a tonic to help in the assimilation of the food and in the absorption of the blood of the food it requires. Eradicate the poisons from the blood with this alternative extract which does not shrink the white blood corpuscles, because containing no alcohol or other injurious ingredients. Thus the body can be built up—strong to resist disease. This is a tonic taken from Nature's garden—that builds up those weakened by disease.

Dr. Pierce, founder of the Invalid Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y., has received many letters similar to the following:
"Mr. P. R. Moore, of Paradise, N. Y., writes: 'I take great pleasure in writing you as regards my case and its cure. In September I was taken with Typhoid Fever, which put me in a dreadful condition. I was weak, run down, nervous and was reduced to a mere skeleton. I had tried most everything I could get but nothing did me any good until at last I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and Pleasant Pellets, which I did. Before I had used one bottle I saw a great improvement, and when I had used this treatment two months, using only a few vials of Pleasant Pellets, I returned to perfect health. I cannot find words to express my thankfulness for this wonderful medicine. I advise all sufferers to write to Dr. P. R. Moore, of Paradise, N. Y., when they are in doubt.'" by any organization. It's a lesson to anyone in house decoration and furnishing.

"Nobodies' Widow" is the yard for the "work" of a delightful, sparkling comedy, one of Potapoff's best.
We have criticism of the play to our audience.
This week's act is something new. No play could be better cast. It's got to be at all along—lean, fun, and lots of it. No long points.
To give a visit at The Burns is to do yourself a good turn. It's a play that is a masterpiece of the art of the theater. The play is a masterpiece of the art of the theater. The play is a masterpiece of the art of the theater.

Progressives Asked Not to Take Part in Primary

DENVER, Sept. 2.—The Democrats and Republicans will hold primaries September 10 and I ask you who are Progressives to stay out of those primaries. It is Roosevelt's wish that no Progressive participate in either a Republican or Democratic primary. No honorable man can participate in a Republican primary knowing that he intends to vote a Progressive ticket in November. The Progressive party is not composed of men of that caliber.
In the above language, Allison Stocker urged the Progressives who attended the rally at the auditorium last night to stay away from the primaries. The rally was held for the purpose of allowing the Progressives to hear Hiram Johnson, their candidate for vice president; Senator Dixon, Governor Carey of Wyoming, and Ben Lindsey. Johnson in his address gave a history of the Progressive party. Dixon said that he was here for the purpose of trying to effect an agreement between the Stewart and the Costigan people but made it plain that under no circumstances would he deal with Republicans.
That he would have nothing to do with anyone who claimed to be a Republican fighting under the misapprehension inside the party and outside the machine. He said that the Progressive party had burned all bridges and had no desire to do the Republican party and that he does not want any one who claimed to be a Progressive to attempt to control the Republican party.

GREELEY WILL SERVE 10 TENS SPUDS POTATO DAY

GREELEY, Colo., Sept. 2.—The largest single item toward the success of the Weld county fair has been produced by the fair management.
This is the 10 tons of potatoes necessary for the famous "Potato day," which comes September 28 this year. On this occasion every visitor to the fair is given a baked potato with a barbecue dinner. The mere giving of a potato would be easy in a country where the finest potatoes in the world are raised, but it is not so easy for the management to get the potatoes it wants. Only the finest of the assorted crop are taken.
The fair this year will bring out some especially fine exhibits of dairy cattle, this industry having thrived during the past year. All the crops are bountiful this year, so that the agricultural showing is expected to be the finest in the history of the county.
The pick of the agricultural exhibits will be selected for a permanent exhibit from this county in the state capitol rotunda.

The Toppo, 'Tasty' Toast

Food science has taught us that there is much body-building nutriment in the whole wheat grain which we do not get in white flour. The only question is how to make the whole wheat grain digestible. That problem has been solved in the making of the shredded whole wheat wafer. It is the whole wheat, steam-cooked shredded, compressed into a wafer, and baked—the maximum of nutriment in smallest bulk. Many people prefer it to ordinary bread toast. Heated in the oven to restore its crispness it is delicious for luncheon, or for any meal, with butter, potted cheese or marmalade.

FARM LAND

Some people think that water is only good for bathing, but Colorado farmers know that it's very good for irrigation. We are agents for farm land in Wyoming, near the prosperous town of Wheatland, about 75 miles north of Cheyenne. The soil is fine and we have real water in real ditches and abundance of it that goes with the land. These lands are selling from $35.00 to $50.00 per acre on very easy terms with only 6 per cent interest on deferred payments. There is no extra charge for water; you get a perpetual water right for the tract you buy, and can always get water when you need it. We can't tell you all about it here, but will be glad to explain the whole proposition if you will call on us. We have been over this part of the country and know what we are talking about.

A SCHOOL NURSE

LAST winter at the solicitation of the Visiting Nurse Association the Board of Education employed a school nurse for the semester ending in June. It was understood that this action was experimental and did not necessarily mean that a nurse would be employed continuously.

The work accomplished by the nurse was so beneficial as to surprise even the most enthusiastic supporters of the plan. She inspected the various schools in turn, spending several days in each and carefully examining all of the pupils to detect the presence of disease or other unwholesome conditions. Whenever anything wrong was found the nurse wrote a note to the parent advising her of the condition, and it then remained for the parent to take whatever action she saw fit. In no case did the nurse give or prescribe medicine or advise the employment of any particular physician or other practitioner. There was no interference with the right of the parent to exercise complete control over the child, and the nurse carefully avoided even the appearance of trying to influence the parent to employ a regular practitioner as against an osteopath, chiropractor, Christian Scientist, or practitioner of any other school of healing.

By this means scores of cases of incipient disease were detected which otherwise would have gone unobserved perhaps until the child's health was too seriously impaired to admit of a complete cure. In other cases parents were enabled to obtain proper treatment for children whose illness had already been recognized but had been neglected through want of proper advice. And finally general health conditions in the public schools were improved by the prevention of infection from diseased children.

The value of health inspection in public schools is generally recognized throughout the country, and the system is being adopted by a steadily increasing number of cities. Under the methods followed here there is no ground for the objection that parents might be forced against their will to employ a practitioner of some one cult. It is definitely understood that the nurse has no authority except to report on the child's condition and recommend treatment; the parent is then free to employ any practitioner or none at all. Under the conditions everywhere prevalent in public schools it is really a sanitary rather than a medical measure, and as a rule, opposition vanishes when it is understood.

The Board of Education has not as yet taken action in regard to the employment of a school nurse for the coming term. In view of the excellent record made last term it is to be hoped that the Board will not hesitate to make the employment of a school nurse a fixed policy.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

THE frequency and seriousness of automobile accidents in and around Colorado Springs recently is a subject which provides food for serious thought. And the first and inevitable conclusion is that such accidents are almost invariably the result of carelessness. The automobile is here to stay. It has taken its place as an indispensable instrument of utility and pleasure. Not the least of the blessings that it has already conferred upon us is the attainment of greater progress in road building within one brief decade than was made in the previous half century. In industrial use it is cheaper and more efficient than the horse-drawn vehicle, and as a means of healthful recreation it is so popular that nearly everybody has one who can afford it—and a great many who can't.

But like every good and useful thing the automobile is grossly abused. The sensation of fast driving is so pleasant and the ease with which a powerful machine can quickly be pushed up to high speed is so marked that few drivers can resist the temptation to "let 'er out" whenever an occasion presents itself. Experience and familiarity with a machine create a feeling of self-confidence which makes the driver believe that he can take long chances, and fast driving even in crowded streets soon becomes a fixed habit. But like the pitcher that goes to the well too often, the fast driver comes to grief, soon or late.

PRESENT ORDINANCE DEFECTIVE.

It is a question whether the best interests of both the public and the motorists would not be better served by the enactment of an automobile ordinance more liberal in its terms than the present one. It is certain that the law is violated hundreds of times every day, and this is so largely because the rates of speed which it authorizes are unreasonably low. The ordinance limits automobiles to 18 miles an hour in streets outside the fire limits, 12 miles an hour inside of the fire limits, and eight miles an hour turning corners. Anybody who has ever driven an automobile knows that it is much harder to control the machine at such a slow rate as eight miles an hour than at 12 or 15 miles, so the danger of an accident occurring at a street corner is actually greater when the driver keeps within the law and permits his machine to wobble along at an eight-mile gait. Likewise, one need only drive his machine at a 12-mile rate, carefully watching his speedometer in order to realize that he is going even that fast—to appreciate the absurdity of this restriction.

Many motorists constantly violate the law without realizing that they are doing so, because the rates permitted are so low. It seems to us that a better way would be to fix really reasonable rates of speed and then enforce the law vigorously and impartially. The 18-mile rate which is now permitted in outlying portions of the city is none too fast for the portions within the fire limits, and a rate of 20 or 22 miles an hour would be reasonable elsewhere. With such provisions no motorist could offer a good excuse for driving at a dangerous speed, and the ordinance probably could be enforced much easier than the present one is.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

WEEDS.
To the Editor of The Gazette:
Numbers of Colorado Springs citizens, as well as strangers within our gates, are wondering what is the object of city ordinances, as they seem framed for no practical end.

Recently we were saddened by the published ordinance (presumably) for the destruction of the weeds, which surely disgrace our fair city. If all the fines therein threatened to those who failed to comply were gathered in the city treasury would be greatly enriched; for the five days of grace have elapsed, and the unsightly weeds still flaunt their heads over vacant lots and street sides alike, much to the discomfort of beauty-loving beholders.

If much of the money spent in advertising our city for the purpose of enticing health seekers, and general tourists were expended in making it a clean city, the destruction of weeds is a very essential feature of municipal house cleaning; sanitary and non-gratifying city, the result would be much more gratifying to both citizens and visitors.

The excessive street car fares are a constant source of annoyance and hardship to both classes, especially added to the inadequate service, which characterizes certain times and seasons. One should not be asked to pay for a seat unobtainable.

E. LADY-K.
Colorado Springs, Sept. 2.

THE WARNING SIGN.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
I have read, in this morning's Gazette, the letter of "Interested" in regard to auto accidents, and think I ought, in justice to the county commissioners, to say that I do not agree with the criticisms contained in it.

At the place where the two accidents referred to occurred, there are two conspicuous warning signs, a considerable distance above the curve in the road. One of these is a caution sign, calling attention to the curve, and is at a sufficient distance up the road to give any driver of an automobile observing, under ordinary care, warning of the curve in abundant time to enable him to slow down to a safe speed. A short distance further on, an equally conspicuous danger sign, marked "Double Curve," is placed. These signs are placed so that they are directly in the path of the running lights of a car coming from the north. If a driver does not see these signs, or does not choose to observe them, I do not see what road a red light would do at that place. I do not agree with the writer of the letter in thinking that the red light at the bridge is worse than useless. In fact, it constitutes a third danger sign after two have been passed and is useful in the night as warning drivers not to proceed onto the bridge.

The first of the accidents referred to occurred in broad day light, which seems to show that the placing of the red light had nothing to do with that accident.

The county commissioners inform me that they have evidence to show that the drivers of both cars were going at a very reckless rate around the curve referred to, and both drivers, apparently, were strangers and unfamiliar with the road. I do not see how any possible arrangement of signs would guard against driving in that way. Even with the bridge in the curve north of the bridge and the reverse curve south of it are very dangerous at high speeds, and call for very cautious driving.

No one can regret more than I do that such accidents should occur, but I believe the county commissioners in charge of the roads have taken all reasonable precautions to prevent them and I do not think they should be blamed unfairly.

Both the county commissioners and this club have taken great pains to put up proper signs on the Dunlap road to make it safe for reasonably careful drivers. Nothing that any one can do can make it safe for careless or reckless drivers.

J. DONARD E. CURTIS,
President Automobile Club.

ASKS VOTERS TO REGISTER.

Colorado Springs, Sept. 2.
To the Editor of The Gazette:
Please may I ask a little space in your paper to ask that the voters in Lywell register today? The election judges have declared all for whom they could vote, but I am sure that there are many not known to us who are not registered and will not be unless the parties see to it themselves today, or on Saturday and Monday next.

Many think that as they are registered and voted two years ago they are registered now. Such is not the case in our precinct, as we are registered under a different law.

There are whole blocks from which we have registered no one, knowing no voters there ourselves, so we ask that the voters themselves will see to it that they are registered.
H. K. WING.
Colorado Springs, Sept. 2.

MEXICO'S DOUBLE WARNING.

From the New York Tribune.

The double warning to Mexico is timely and pertinent, and those to whom it is addressed will do well to heed and to act upon it without delay. It comes from the United States government with peculiarly good grace and with special force, because of the patient and benevolent attitude which this country has maintained toward the troubles in Mexico, at times under extraordinary provocation.

The warning to the Mexican government, or to President Madero, is fitting because that government is responsible for all that happens within its domain. There is no pretence, or rather there is no admission, that the disturbances in the north amount to unbridled civil war, and that General Orozco and his followers are worthy of recognition as responsible belligerents. On the contrary, President Madero and his associates would doubtless hotly resent such an assumption. But, of course, if the peace-breakers are more rioters, brigands and marauders, the government of the country must accept strict responsibility for their conduct in so far as it affects injuriously the interests of a neighboring state.

That warning, however, by no means nullifies the pertinence of another addressed directly to General Orozco himself. It is a good old American principle that the right of self-protection is paramount in extreme cases, even above our obligations to the sovereignty of other states. When Spain refused, or at any rate failed, to abate a nuisance on her Florida border, which was injurious to this country, our government reached out to Amelia Island with a strong hand, and it did right. It is sincerely to be hoped that that performance will not have to be repeated in Chihuahua, but at least with the Mexican government and with General Orozco to obviate the need.

A SENSE OF DUTY.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A fine illustration of the automatic obedience that is the result of habit is the conduct of the fire horses stolen from the municipal stables. Attached to a police car in New Jersey, when the alarm summoned the local fire apparatus they promptly responded, and the detectives on their trail recognized and rescued them from mental employment to the ponderous duty of the engine house.

The whole theory of the drastic education of West Point is that of making the response to orders a matter of second nature. The incident is a fine illustration of the automatic obedience that is the result of habit. The soldier or servant who demurs, raises plausible objections, and in his own good time fulfills the instruction, is not earning his wage. "Think," says Kipling's brusque officer, "you are not paid to think."

The child whose whim is indulged and who is allowed to execute a parental order as deliberately as he chooses—no pay no attention to it if he does not like it—is fairly certain to become a social detriment later a harm to the community. "Save his service," no man may rule. So frequent and so circumstantial are the accounts of the debauchery of the Russian crown prince, the czar's son, that there is probably a good deal of truth in them. He is allowed to have his own way in everything. Because of this one day to rule millions of peasants, he must rule the nursery and the household. It is a grievous error to suppose that iron resolution of character is developed that way. From all the signs the future ruler of Russia is growing up into a peevish, obstinate, impossible boy, his undesirable mental characteristics resting on a substructure of organic physical weakness.

No form of training is worthy of the name that does not embrace some inculcation of the plain, old-fashioned idea of discipline, which exports the command of the master to the servant, of the general to the soldier, of the parent to the child, to be obeyed.

Homes for Women

By RUTH CAMERON.

Homes are mostly for women. They are managed chiefly by women, lived in a longer time by women, and cared for almost entirely by women.

I am sure no one will deny these facts. Why, then, is not more attention paid to woman and her convenience in the building of homes and the manufacture of household furnishings?

A friend of mine built a house. By her thrift she helped her husband earn and save the money for it, and then, because he was so much absorbed in his business, she was given the chief charge of building the new home. And being an original woman she did not feel bound to build it exactly like her old one. Instead she incorporated into it innumerable little features which made it a better place for woman to live and work in than the average house.

For instance, the closets, then, most of us take for granted, but several long enough to hold a skirt laid out at full length. Any woman will appreciate the convenience of that. And how easily such an arrangement might be made in almost any house, but how seldom it is.

Again, this woman has the sink built several inches higher than the average sink. What is the good, she says, of having a sink so low that I have to stoop to do my work there, when it costs no more to build it at a comfortable height?

Another thing on which this woman insists is that the kitchen should have a room deep enough to hold a sink, a table and a chair or two, and a big window with a very pleasant prospect, but the setting in trips over the stove or radiator in the big room where it is.

These are some of the ways in which one bright woman who was given a chance employed on masculine architecture. Women everywhere ought to be given more to say about homebuilding and ought to exert themselves in this way, and say and act more than they do on this very important subject.

And the result would be not only to make their own individual homes better places for women to live and work in, but to improve the pattern of the ready-made homes which are being built by the thousands all over this country.

Now should woman stop at influencing architecture, she should also do all she can to influence manufacture in so far as it touches her. For instance, I am appalled at the heavy tea kettles which are sold to foolish women who daily overtax their strength in lifting them. Women ought to put an end to the manufacture of such articles by refusing to buy them.

Again, look at the difference in labor between making a high or low bed. There is no excuse for these back-breaking low beds. It is a shame to be made as well as slept in, and manufacturers should remember that, and when they fail to, should be taught a lesson.

They tell us that the American man will give the American woman anything at all she wants to ask for.

Let's begin to ask for kettles and household furnishings that shall be more efficient from a feminine point of view.

SEVEN GREAT LETTER WRITERS.

NO. 3 MADAME DE SEVIGNE.

Madame De Sevigne, a French woman of the seventeenth century, seems to have above all women, possessed the knack of writing interesting letters—the most interesting in the world. People all over the world read these letters and are delighted. They read them again and find in them the same charm.

Mme. Sevigne was the grand daughter of the Baroness Chantal who was made one of the saints of her church for her works of charity. Her father was killed when Marie was only one year old, and her uncle, the Abbe de Livry took charge of her. This was when the uncle was 25 years of age. He lived until Marie was 60 and in her letters she always called him "The Very Good."

When Marie was 18 she married Henri de Sevigne. They lived together rather unhappily for seven years when the husband was killed in a duel. Madame was devoted to him but he never married again but she devoted herself to her two children and to the brilliant social life of that period.

The eldest child was a daughter and the letters of Madame de Sevigne, which are counted the most graceful and interesting extant in any language, are many of them addressed to this daughter. But these letters also embrace important communications to the friends of her long life, and these include Cornelle, Racine, Moliere, Bossuet, Pascal, and La Rochefoucauld, together with scores of others. The gossip, the relation of events, the graceful and playful touches of wit make these letters historic and literary treasures.

Sensible, well-poised people realize quite well that many of Madame Sevigne's judgments on men and measures are absolutely worthless; that many of her criticisms of things are not worth the paper they are printed on; that she frequently displays a shallow appreciation of the events that were shaping themselves around her; but all the same the letters delight them and they turn to them again and again.

In the subject matter of these famous letters there is nothing that comes within a thousand miles of originality; and yet on account of the style with which they are written—or, rather, on account of the personality of which the style is the reflection—they have become a part of the world's classics and will probably live as long as the works of Homer and Shakespeare.

These letters were written by a devoted mother to her dearly beloved daughter without the least thought that their contents would ever obtain publicity sincere and true, as far as the spirit of them goes. There are no attitudes, no stage plays, no hypocrisy or diplomacy in them—they are the spontaneous, honest, unaffected utterances of a fairly bright and thoroughly loving woman to the child she loved with all her heart, and who returned the love in full measure. Sincerely abundant in Mme. Sevigne's letters and for that reason they are and long will remain a power in the world, a magnet that shall draw minds and hearts to the end of time.

The author of these immortal letters, whose maiden name was Marie de Rabutin, was born in Paris on the fifth day of February, 1626, and died at Grignon on the 16th of April, 1696, in her seventieth year.

TOMORROW—WILLIAM COWPER.

Within the next day or two the British Beekeepers association will attain an object for which they have been working for the last 20 years—the establishment of an educational colony under government auspices. All that is now wanted for the completion of the scheme is the arrival of six colonies of bees at a small enclosure which has been prepared near the owl house in the zoological gardens.

Finger prints for identification were used by the Chinese as long ago as the seventh century.

It is believed that the keynote to the

Mandot Proves Tartar Wins From Joe Rivers

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—Outgeneraled and outfought in nearly every round by Joe Mandot of New Orleans, the Mexican champion, the Los Angeles lightweight, lost the decision to the visitor in the end of their 10-round bout in the Vernon arena today.

The Mexican claimant to the high honors in the lightweight class was more novice in the hands of the ever southerner, although he outwitted Mandot two pounds when they entered the ring. Rivers weighed in at 133 and Mandot 131.

Rivers made a much poorer show-than he did against Ad Wolgast in 4. He appeared slow and showed advantage only in the infighting in the closing rounds. Mandot even outright him in the clinches.

Mandot sold Rivers defense early in the bout leading straight lefts to the face almost continuously without return. In the eighth he began hitting Rivers head with right and left swings and in nearly each one of the succeeding rounds he followed this line of attack. He showed great verve in blocking and countering. The boys spent much of the time in inches and reference to him was comed frequently to give them apart. Rivers had a shade the better of it three rounds the fourth sixth and eleventh. In the thirteenth Mandot nearly closed the Mexican's right eye with a left swing and in the next round he punished him severely with straight lefts and rights.

Mandot appeared to be tiring in the sixteenth round, and in a fierce slugging match at long and short range Rivers earned even honors for the round. The seventeenth was almost a repetition, Rivers roughing it toward the close and wrestling Mandot to the mat at the bell. The nineteenth was Mandot's.

Rivers tried his best to put away the southerner in the last round but Mandot cleverly eluded his rushes and swings. The decision in Mandot's favor was popular.

JEFF CLARK SHADES JEANNETTE IN SIX

PITTSBURG, Pa., Sept. 2.—Jeff Clark of Joplin, Mo., The Fighting Ghost, and Joe Jeannette of Hoboken, N. J., aspirant, in championship boxing met here in a six-round bout today. Popular opinion gave the fight to Clark. Clark weighed 163½ and Jeannette 168½ pounds.

lefts to face. Clark was quick and in the mixup Joe landed several light

turned the tables in the fifth round, although Clark rocked his head with a hail left to jaw. Joe hit him frequently and played for the stomach, but could not land. He sent smashing blows to the body and face as the round ended.

Both boys were willing to mix things all the time and while Malone was the aggressor in the majority of the rounds, the Boer landed the greater number of blows and with more effect. Unholz soon solved Malone's defense and sent in stiff punches without return.

Interclub Match Won by Springs Golf Club, 34-3

Yesterday an interclub team match on the links of the Colorado Springs Golf club was won in decisive fashion by the representatives of that organization, the Cheyenne Mountain Country club team being defeated by a score of 34 to 3.

One of the biggest holiday crowds that ever assembled on the club links turned out for a special match, which started shortly before 10 o'clock in the morning. Luncheon was served at the club house following the match. At which Judge Lunt, the only winner for the country club contingent, and Admiral Cralle, the only loser on the Springs club team, were called upon for speeches, one telling why he won and the other why he lost.

In the afternoon there was a ladies' "clock golf" match, which was won by Mrs. H. C. Harmon, with a score of 27 for her journey around the dial.

HILTON AND EVANS TIE IN MEDAL SCORE

WHEATON, Ill., Sept. 2.—The qualifying round of 35 holes for the national golf championship, ended at dusk tonight with the two players generally conceded to be the strongest contenders for the day tied for the medal score trophy. Fred Herreshoff, runner-up last year, failed to qualify.

Harold Hilton of the Royal Liverpool Golf club, the title holder, and Charles Evans Jr. of Edgewater, Chicago, ended the day with 32 each and will play off the top gold medals later in the week. Each had a 74 in the morning and a 75 in the afternoon. At the end of the day, Howard Perrin of the Merion Cricket club and Fred Herreshoff and Henrich Schmidt of Worcester were tied at 164 for last place among the 32 who qualified. One hole played at sundown was enough to settle the tie.

Herreshoff drove well but sent his brassie into a bunker, sent it clear across the green with his niblick and missed a long putt.

Perrin tried his brassie shot which ended his chances and Schmidt took the hole easily. This ended Herreshoff as a contender this year.

Fourteen players to qualify this year. In the play around the clubhouse, fifteen of them are western players, 11 are from the east and two are Englishmen.

CLOSE BOUT LOOKED FOR NEXT THURSDAY

Followers of the sport of the mat will have a chance to see a real wrestler go against Yusuf Hussane, the Terrible Turk at Temple theater, Thursday night. Dan McFride, the big Canadian, is set to meet Hussane in a good round. A few years ago he defeated Carl Samuels, champion of the court and when he beat Carl Madden, eastern champion and other cracker in short order, the fans began to take an interest.

Then a match was arranged with Farmer Burns, the grand old man of the wrestling game in the United States who at that time was past to Goetz. The critics did not give Mr. Burns a look in the mat after a hard struggle. McBride's friends demanded a match with Goetz and the champion agreed to throw his opponent twice in an hour. A record breaking crowd turned out to see the Canadian title holder when he met Goetz in Montreal. Goetz getting one fall in 50 minutes.

McBride has improved since that time and although he has not met Goetz in a finish bout with the champion, he has it coming to him. If he wins from Goetz Thursday night he will be in line for a meeting with Goetz for the world's championship.

The same both Hussane and McBride have won on the mat, but in the line to meet the best the world has to offer and to throw his opponent twice in an hour. A record breaking crowd turned out to see the Canadian title holder when he met Goetz in Montreal. Goetz getting one fall in 50 minutes.

Flynn Makes Miller Quit After Fifteenth Round

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2. Putting a cyclonic finish to a cautious, well-judged early pace, Jim Flynn of Pueblo was declared the winner of his battle with Charlie Miller, at Colma, today, when the old San Franciscoan refused to leave his corner and toe the scratch for the sixteenth round. Miller stayed through the fifteenth round, but claiming that two of his ribs had been fractured and that he was hardly able to walk he ignored the beckoning song for the sixteenth.

The motorman's condition was plain, such that he could not continue. It was whispered at the ringside that the police were about to draw the curtains on the scene.

With the exception of some of the earlier rounds, Flynn outfought his former sparring partner and demonstrated a severe beating to the championship aspirant. He closed Miller's left eye and drew blood from the face more than once. During the last five rounds he had the big fellow wobbling a portion of the time and on four occasions nearly scored a bull's eye by dropping Miller.

Miller was willing at all times and forced the fighting through many of the rounds. He stood and exchanged punches for punch with Flynn and started several rallies that brought the crowd to its feet yelling. Flynn used an effective right uppercut and landed Miller with head punches. He landed frequently on the body but took few chances in registering his blows.

During the tenth round after Miller had beaten Flynn around the ring in one of the sensational rallies he stood and looked at the fireman and then said smilingly:

Gee Flynn, I've got to give it to you. You're a tough guy.

Flynn weighed about 152 pounds and Miller was down to 218 ringside. Spider Kelly refereed.

Dugmore won the first set but Wheeler rallied and took the next

The unfinished matches in the mixed doubles halted because of the shower will be played off this afternoon with the scores standing at the end of yesterday. Results yesterday:

In a stirring set John Morey defeated D. Harker for the state championship in the singles 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. Harker had won the match cup two times and had he defeated Morey today he would have obtained it permanently.

The consolation doubles was the closest set played during the tournament. After a severe struggle Toner and Schwab beat Griffin and More 6-2, 11-9, 5-7, 4-6, 6-2.

Benny Chavez Gets Decision Over Attell

TRINIDAD, Sept. 2. In the twelfth round of a grueling fight here this afternoon, Benny Chavez of Trinidad was awarded the decision over Monte Attell of Pittsburgh on a foul. Up to that time the battle had been even. The blow caused Chavez to stagger and double in with a look of pain. The delivery of the blow caused a wild scene as all spectators crowded into the ring and the platform collapsed. No one was injured.

MORE HONORS FOR THORPE

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—On a wet track and field Jim Thorpe, the "Red Indian" who holds the Olympic decathlon and pentathlon records, won the all-round amateur athletic championship of America at Selkirk park today. He was first in seven of the 10 events which make up the trying contest. His total 146 points is a new record for the competition, beating the previous record of Martin Sheridan made here one year ago by 41 points. In the running high jump Thorpe cleared 6 feet 11½ inches, a new record for all ages in the class.

NEW MOTORBIKE RECORDS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2.—F. G. Baker of Indianapolis today broke the world's motorcycle records for 72 and 144 miles on the road half-mile track at the local motorrome. His time for the 72 miles was 50 minutes and 57 seconds and for the 144 miles one hour and 15 minutes 22-5 seconds.

The previous records were 57 minutes and 18 seconds and one hour, 20 minutes and 34 seconds.

Cottrells Beat Zoor When Locals Blow Up

BIRKBY'S brave band refused to turn the other cheek and the Cottrells got even yesterday for Sunday's defeat by riding those Zoor rough shod in the Labor day exploit in the roughing yard. Score Cottrells 11, Zoor 11.

In a game marked by good and near good playing ground and lefts tumbling and general monkey business.

Three times—count em—each team had the other up in the balloon and everything was ready to cut the rope. Then some popular athlete would wobble and a cluster of runs would amble over. Those Zoor will have to tighten the wires will carry a wild yarn next Sunday night telling how the Pride of the Rockies was humbled by the hands and feet of the Merry Maids from Boston Bay. To be beaten by the Bloomer Girls would be about as funny as a sore thumb.

Polley perhaps makes it unwise to shoot a flimsy broadside at the late lamented Mr. Gall, the well known statistician, who won't say anything about his three errors in short field.

RYAN SHADES YOUNG HOWARD IN TASI BOUT

In the best bout of the padded mitts that has been seen in Colorado Springs since the days when the boys were more common than it is now, Young Howard and the Fighting Sparrow, Mike Ryan, met in a ten round fight at the El Paso County Republican club in Colorado City, and the club rooms were crowded to capacity.

Howard and Ryan, who weighed in at 125 pounds, gave the spectators a swift run for their money and the decision of the referee in calling the bout a draw met with popular approval.

In the semi-swinging Jack Leonard beat Kid Wilson in the third round of a scheduled 4 round go and this exhibition also created much enthusiasm. As an added attraction there was a wrestling bout in which Al Wampler won two falls out of three from the St. Louis Kid. The Kid took the first fall in three minutes with a body hold but Wampler came back and took the next two with half Nelson and crotch holds. The time was eight and five minutes respectively. Kid Burns of Chicago challenged the winner of the Howard-Ryan bout.

BAT NELSON GETS DRAW IN BATTLE WITH KETCHEL

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 2. Battling Nelson fought Steve Ketchel of Chicago a 10 round draw here this afternoon. The ex-champion worked his hands freely with Ketchel's body for a target and in return took many blows upon the face. Ketchel was felled in the eleventh round but came up quickly. His work apparently stamps him as a corner. Ketchel and the best of two rounds and Nelson a shade in six. The others were even. The fight was witnessed by a large crowd.

STERLING-M'ILVAIN WIN IN AUTO POLO

The same dish a pla, the same sensational handling, but in this marked yesterday's game of auto polo at Washington field the final match being won by the Sterling-M'Ilvain team by a score of four goals to none.

Jackson and Miller furnished just as many thrills perhaps as the winning pair of auto poloists but when it came to following the ball down the field and sending home the goal scoring punch Sterling and M'Ilvain had things all their own way.

From here the teams go to Denver driving the polo cars around this morning, and a series of games will be played in that city before the new sport is introduced in the east and south.

Colorado's Sr. was claiming the distinction of witnessing the first three professional auto polo games ever played in America and it was a little like it as well to come to a place to become popular wherever played.

McGraw recently sent out a call for new pitchers and that the agents will forward a bunch of them for trial next spring. McGraw, it is said, is rapidly weakening on the veterans Walter and Ames and realizes that he must build up his pitching staff before next season rolls around.

Players in the Michigan State league, who have come from the Central and Southern Michigan leagues declare it harder to make a batting record in the State than in either of the other leagues owing to the number of good pitchers at work in the Michigan State. A number of the players who have come from the other leagues have failed to make good.

WILSON IS AGAINST MINIMUM WAGE IDEA

In Speech Before Labor Council Says Scale Would Be Made Low as Possible

RUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Gov. Woodrow Wilson today analyzed the third-party platform in its relation to the laboring man. The question of his speech was a labor day celebration under the auspices of the United Trades and Labor council.

It was the first expression from the Democratic candidate on the merits of the progressive platform. The governor said that while on the one hand was to be founded upon sympathy with practically every project of social betterment, that part was merely a declaration of sympathy, while the real program lay elsewhere, where the labor and the trust are spoken of.

The governor assailed the minimum wage idea, declaring that employers would take occasion to bring their wage scale as nearly as they could down to the level of the minimum permitted by the law.

With the idea of a federal commission to regulate monopoly, the governor took emphatic issue. He declared that the plan suggested not only would legalize monopoly but give the chief employers of the country a tremendous authority behind them.

"What the employers do will have the force of law," he said, "and the government will be reduced to a mere rubber stamp."

Wilson said that the program of the new party "legalizes monopolies and systematically subordinates workingmen to them and to plans made by the government, both with regard to employment and with regard to wages."

He pointed out that if it always had been the policy of the masters of consolidated industries to "undermine organized labor in a great many ways and that a plan of federal control as advocated by the new party, 'systematically subordinates workingmen to monopoly,' and 'locks strategically into economic misery over the lives and fortunes of those who are the labor force of the nation.'"

What Will Workers Receive?

Governor Wilson said in part: "Intelligent working men will ask the men now seeking their votes what they may be expected to do for them. I do not mean for them separately but what they may be expected to do for the country which will utilize them to the confidence of those who perform the labor which lies at the basis of all our life."

"Most of the answers they get will turn upon the question of tariff duties from which our politics never seem to get away. On the one hand they will be told that if the Democratic party gets into power they may look for a more industry languish and wages go down and employment become harder and harder to find. They forget that Democrats constitute something like half the nation, that Democrats are engaged in occupations of every kind, depend upon all sorts of business for their livelihood, share in every interest and enterprise of the country."

"It may safely be taken for granted that Democrats are not going to destroy themselves economically."

"These unimpeachable predictions come both from the old line Republicans and from these Republicans of the new departure who are seeking to build a new party out of their own ranks. Republicans of the old line these predictions of disaster were to be expected. They have been heard in the stock in trade. That they were heard to have been expected from those who had out themselves as those who were to make new things out of old and yet the predictions of the leaders of the new party are as alarming as the predictions of the worst standardizer. There is the stimulating breath of hope in every part of the platform of the new party except that which touches the tariff and the tariff."

National League

NEW YORK, 5-6; BOSTON, 2-1.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—New York took both games of the double-header from Boston, thereby increasing their lead in the pennant race. The Chicago-based Boston Red Sox, with two men on bases, won the first game in the twelfth inning, after a pitchers' battle in which Boston's first baseman, Fred McLeod, pitched a perfect game for the first time in his career.

The second game was a pitchers' battle, in which Boston's first baseman, Fred McLeod, pitched a perfect game for the first time in his career.

Platform Has Two Sides

It has two sides and two tones. It speaks warmly sympathetically and promises every project of social betterment to which men and women of broad sympathies are not turning with generous purposes and on that side it is refreshing to read. But that is not the part of the platform that reads like a program. It is a proclamation of sympathy, rather an indication of the direction in which the leaders of the party would like some time move.
